

STYLES.

Unto the way the girls are dressed
Some people are averse,
But silence, after all, is best,
The next styles may be worse.

To one who is not highly versed
In ways that girls are dressed,
They always seem to look their worst
When they are in their "best."

We think the girls are mighty sweet,
And know that we are blessed;
The less they wear upon the street
The more they think they're dressed.

MAYSVILLE TOOK TWO

Defeated Lexington Saturday 5 to 4
and Shut Out Richmond Here Sunday 7 to 0

"Swat the fly!" was the slogan out at the Mayville park yesterday afternoon when 700 fans saw the Mayville team walk away from Richmond by the score of 7 to 0.

It was easy money for Mayville, and Black, pitching for the visitors, was pounded around to beat the band and forced to quit; Jones following him in the box for three innings and he proved easier than the former. Mayville was too fast at all points for the visitors and they never crossed the plate.

Mayville scored one run in the first and two in the second, blanking the Richmond team right along; then two in the sixth and two in the eighth, a total of seven, while the opponents only tallied nine goose eggs.

There were several pretty catches of long distance flies, and Carmony's line catch and double play at first was fine work for the home team.

The score follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Mayville	1	2	0	0	2	0	2	x	7	12	2
Richmond	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	5	2

Batteries—Black, Jones and Helms; Wellman and Kunkle. Two-base hits—Jones, Snyder, Kunkle. Three-base hits—Reed, Snyder. Sacrifice hit—Woodruff. Sacrifice fly—Williams. Stolen bases—Langenham. Carmony. Base on balls—Off Jones 1. Struck out—By Black 1, by Jones 1, by Wellman 4. Runs on hits—6 hits, 5 runs off Black in 6 innings. Left on bases—Richmond 5, Mayville 7. Double play—Carmony unassisted. First base on errors—Mayville 1. Hit by pitcher—By Jones, Wellman.

Time, 1:35; Umpire, Kelley; attendance, 800.

SATURDAY'S GAME—MAYSVILLE 5, LEXINGTON 4.

The one run bonfire seems to have the Lexington firmly in its grasp when they play Mayville and they lost again Saturday at Lexington by the close score of 5 to 4, when a pretty eighth inning rally looked like it would at least tie the score.

Mayville succeeded in hunching seven of their nine hits in three innings and in each of them they scored. Reer kept his hits well scattered and had work on the part of his team-mates allowed Lexington to come close, Mayville's two errors coming in the eighth, when Lexington scored three runs with one hit.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Mayville	1	2	0	0	0	2	0	5
Lexington	0	0	0	0	1	0	3	0	4

Two-base hits—Snyder, Woodruff. Three-base hit—Hedger. First on balls—Off Vallengingham 2, off Reer 4. Stolen bases—Ellie, Walsh, Crist, Carmony, Clever, Snyder, Reed. Struck out—By Vallengingham 7, by Reer 5. Left on bases—Lexington 5, Mayville 6. Sacrifice hits—Clever, Williams, Baschong. Double plays—Clever to Carmony; Kunkle to Carmony. Game began at 3. Time—Two hours. Umpire—Kelley.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Jap Gubi, an outfielder from the Mountain State League, has joined the Paris team.

Manager Kunkle has been getting hurt so much of late that he now wears shin guards.

Paris has signed Catcher Schulz of the Mountain State League and he seems to be quite a handy man.

Richmond at League Park again today. Vance will probably do the twirling for the home team and Cameron for the visitors.

Snyder played a fine game yesterday, excepting everything that came his way in the field and getting a triple and single out of four times at the plate. Jack is pretty good in the pitcher's box.

Some More Snakes

Miss Lizzie Fern, a resident at the Alms-house, and a great lover and raiser of canary birds, is mourning the loss of a number of her pretty and sweet singers this morning. A four-foot black snake got into one of the cages containing the birds and made feast of the whole outfit.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

While your wife swats the flies why don't you get busy and cut the weeds?

Governor Deene sticks to Taft while Boss Flynn sticks to Roosevelt. How natural.

Where a pike is built, immediately should there be provision to keep it up. It is more economical and more serviceable to the people to put on sufficient force to keep the road in repair than to let it run down for four or five years and then put on a big gang to reconstruct it.

Roads wear out easily nowadays. Only about two years ago a pike leading east from here was constructed. It made a splendid road and the people were praising it. Now it is ragged and jagged and full of holes, and is a great annoyance to travelers. Now it will be repaired or restored, and it will cost twice as much, probably, as it would have cost to have had a constant force at work mending every little break in the roadway.

It should be the rule of road construction that provision for the preservation of the road should be made immediately upon its completion. Public duty is evaded when this is not done. Road maintenance and road construction should be inseparable.—Ashland Independent.

A Democratic View.

Critique Mercury.

When Mr. Watterson said Roosevelt was crazy we didn't take much stock in the statement, but since in his manifesto Mr. Roosevelt says nothing must be said in his new platform "that will keep Democrats from supporting the new party ticket," we are convinced we were more charitable than correct.

The Hon. Leslie Combs who is the leader of the Roosevelt movement in Kentucky says that this is the last fight that the Regular Republican party will ever make. We would be delighted if we could believe Mr. Combs knows what he is talking about, but we have sung that song so often ourselves that we are skeptical. We believe that Mr. Combs' new party somewhat resembles a quail; it can run as fast the day it is hatched as it ever can afterward.

It may be that we are a moral degenerate, but we can't rid ourselves of the idea that the expelled Senator from Illinois is as good as the leader of the Bull Moose party and the newspaper gang that demanded his removal from the Senate. It is our opinion that if Lorimer goes before the people of Illinois they will return him to the Senate; and it is our further opinion that cowardice caused more Senators to vote against him than evidence and virtue did.

The wealth of this country has increased since the last Democratic Tariff, 1897, from $77,000,000,000 to $107,000,000,000. The money in circulation doubled and bank clearings trebled. Individual bank deposits made a three-fold increase. Farm property has doubled in value, and wage-earners are receiving a billion dollars a year more than then. Notwithstanding all this phenomenal increase in prosperity, all brought about by a reasonable Protective policy, we expect to see the "peepul" kick the whole works into oblivion in their mad race for "a change." And then look for the rise of another Lincoln to bring order out of the revolution the disturbers have caused. Agitation spells ruin for Americans. —Pueblo Sunday Opinion.

In the decade 1900-1910 the population of the country increased 21 per cent; the production of cereals increased only 1.7 per cent. The value of cereals rose 80 per cent.

Again, it has been stated that the supply of cattle and sheep has been very considerably reduced, in one year the loss being about 4,000,000.

The hours of labor have been reduced about 25 per cent. in several industries and about 20 per cent. in many more.

Do not these typical facts indicate that we are suffering from relative scarcity, from failure of supply to catch up with demand? In other words, is not the chief remedy to be sought in more and better farming, in increasing production, in placing aliens on land, in encouraging the development of natural resources in every legitimate way?—Chicago Record-Herald.

The American farmer has nearly $40,000,000,000 invested in his business.

He produces $25,000,000 of new wealth every day.

He uses hundreds of millions of dollars of bank credit every crop season.

But by reason of our antiquated banking system, the farmer bears the burden of dear money. He pays more for credit than the farmer of any other commercial nation.

The lowest money rates in this country are paid by speculators in the financial centers; the highest rates are paid by the farmer.

The higher the rate for agricultural capital, the higher the cost of production, the higher the prices of agricultural products and the higher the cost of living.

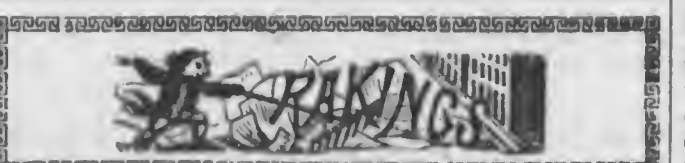

The farmer and the buyer of the farmer's products will both gain by a reform of our banking system.

Tips From Texas.

Even when they come to the river of death, there are some easy-going loafers who probably will want to stop and fish a while.

Do not kick a man when he is down. Run home and tell his wife he is on another toot.

Of course the modern young man who joys in the purr of his six-cylinder at the curb feels tolerably proud of himself, but we doubt if he has any edge on the grandfather who maintained a three-story horse block at his front gate.—Dallas News.

PROPOSE BOOST BOARD

CHARLES FREEMAN JOHNSON
ARRANGING FOR CONVENTION
NEXT SEPTEMBER.

Movement Whereby People of the United States May Finance and Maintain the People's Educational Foundation.

the people of the United States, the headquarters of which are to be in Washington.

By the organization of people's committees of fifteen or more in every county of each state, local centers of distribution will be maintained with teachers or advisers co-operating with local boards of education and colleges to supplement their work, assisting in the problem of adjusting people to the kind of work for which they have a natural gift.

Vocational training, mechanic arts, agriculture, and self-supporting pursuits will be cultivated.

A nation-wide system of ethics will be established as recommended by the National Educational Council at San Francisco, beginning in the kindergartens and primary schools, extending throughout all branches of education and out into the business system of daily life, to cultivate self-reliance, honor, respect for law, and national character.

It is being promoted by the National Legal Reform association, whose objects have been approved by President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, David Starr Jordan, Mayor Gaynor of New York, Governor Woodrow Wilson, Governor Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, Governor Gilchrist of Florida, Governor Mann of Virginia, Governor Osborn of Michigan, Governor McNeal of Alabama, Governor Wilson of Kentucky, and many prominent persons throughout the country.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition management has extended an invitation to this movement to hold a great people's convention at their exposition in San Francisco in 1915, and similar invitations have been extended by the local board of trade and chamber of commerce to hold the 1912 convention in Washington.

Charles Freeman Johnson, who is organizing this movement as director is now in Washington, making arrangements for the convention, and he states that 1,000 delegates are expected to attend here in September next.

Mr. Johnson has submitted also to the local board in Washington a plan to increase the influence and activity of all these bodies, by uniting all local interests through the "Washington Development Committee of 200," to be selected from the present joint committee of fine arts and other bodies adding sufficient representatives of the banking, transportation hotel and other commercial and social interests to make it thoroughly representative of all interests.

The "Washington Development Committee of 200" will maintain permanent headquarters to conduct an active, continuous publicity campaign through the press and special literature. It will educate the people of the United States to the importance of Washington as the capital of art, culture, finance, and politics, and as the distributive center of educational literature; it will show the national character of the far-sighted plans for the commission and public bodies and it will proceed directly to secure a suitable convention hall, to bring more conventions and visitors to Washington; to improve roads and parks; to secure important legislation from congress and encourage educational movements of a national character tending to make Washington known everywhere as "the most beautiful city in the world"—"the convention city."

Fond of American Candy.

The Duchess Anastasia, daughter of Emperor Nicholas of Russia, is passionately fond of American candy, and it is said that she will eat no other. The Grand Duke Alexis, her brother, who is going to be Czar of all Russia if he lives, thinks there is nothing in the world as good as lemon drops put up in boxes by candy makers of this country. Knowing the "sweet tooth" of these children of the Czar, Hon. Curtis Giles, Jr., who is American ambassador to Russia, on returning to his duties at the court of the Czar the other day, carried one big trunk full of candy to the Grand Duchess and Grand Duke. This was to be presented to the young people on June 18, which is the eleventh birthday anniversary of the Grand Duchess. They are extremely fond of sweet pickles bottled as they are in this country, and as these can not be procured in St. Petersburg he also carried a trunk full of sweet pickles. Accounts do not state, however, that he carried with him a trunk full of lactopepsin.

Historic Blackguards

By Albert Payson Terhune

The Earl of Leicester, a "Might-Have-Been" Who Failed

"Here lies a valiant warrior who never drew a sword. Here lies a wily courtier who never kept his word. Here lies the Earl of Leicester who governed the estates; Whom, living, Man could never love and a just Heaven now hates."

THIS scurrilous, mock-epitaph, written by a political foe, etches on the character of Robert Dudley, earl of Leicester, far better than do the stately lines on his tomb. But neither of the two tell the most important thing about him: namely, that he probably came within an ace of being prince consort of England, husband of Queen Elizabeth, and (if the laws could have been juggled to fit the case) even king.

Leicester's only claims to success were good looks, charm of manner and total lack of conscience. Yet these three qualities lifted him higher than almost any other man of his day. He had the still further handicap of beginning his political career in prison. The start was not favorable, but the man's luck quickly made up for this drawback.

His father, the duke of Northumberland, plotted to make unlucky little Lady Jane Gray (his daughter-in-law) queen of England. Queen Mary, daughter of Henry VIII., crushed the plot, mounted the throne herself, and condemned to death Lady Jane, her young husband, and Northumberland himself. Robert Dudley (Northumberland's second son and Lady Jane's brother-in-law), was also thrown into jail, accused of a share in the conspiracy and was sentenced to death. But he was soon set free and given a court position.

When Elizabeth came to the throne in 1558, her fickle fancy was caught by young Dudley. He was strikingly handsome—and she loved handsome men. He was a clever flatterer—and she adored flattery. She gave Leicester one high office after another, heaping rank and honors upon him to the scandal of all Europe.

There can be no doubt the queen was deeply in love with him. It was rumored that this capricious sovereign, who had stubbornly refused to marry any European prince or king, meant to bestow her hand on Dudley.

But there was a hitch in this plan. He was already married. When he was a mere youth he wedded Amy Robsart, daughter of a rich old knight. For years Amy had been kept away from court in an obscure Berkshire country house, Cumnor hall. There Dudley, once in a great while, visited her. But for the most part she lived a wretchedly lonely life. Now that he was an aspirant for Elizabeth's hand, it became necessary for the neglectful husband to get rid of his wife. Accordingly, Amy was found one day lying dead in Cumnor hall, her neck broken.

It was soon after this tragedy that the queen raised Dudley to the rank of "Earl of Leicester." She also suggested him as a suitable husband for the unfortunate Mary Queen of Scots. (This was thought to be a blind to hide her own love for him. Leicester afterward proposed that Mary, who was then a prisoner of Elizabeth's, be put out of the way by poison.) Elizabeth gave Leicester the magnificent castle of Kenilworth and other rich estates in Warwickshire. At this castle, in 1575, he entertained the queen for some days with a series of quady spectacles and revels that cost him $300,000, which sum his various court of fiefs doubtless permitted him to gain back from the people.

At this time his coming marriage to the queen was a matter of common talk. Just what wrecked the plan no one knows. In any case, something occurred to destroy Leicester's hopes and to turn him, in a moment, from a possible prince consort to a mere "might have been."

He revenged himself by marrying the countess of Essex, whose husband he was suspected of poisoning. Elizabeth could never hear to have her courtiers look at any other woman except herself. She flew into a mad rage at news of Leicester's marriage and swore he should die in the Tower of London. But she soon forgave him and even afforded him new chances for official incompetency.

In 1588, in his fifty-seventh year, Leicester died. It was at the time, rumored that he met death by drinking a cup of poison he had prepared for his wife. This may have been a bit of malicious court gossip; or, if true, it may have implied that he still believed he could win Elizabeth's hand.

A Butcher Shop Idyl.

She was pretty and she looked soulful. "How much is porterhouse?" she timidly inquired. "Twenty cents a pound," said the butcher, a large, coarse man. "Oh, I cannot afford that. I'm dip couraged at these high prices." She began to weep. "Take heart," murmured a benevolent looking old gentleman. "I guess I will. That comes cheap er. Please wrap me up half a pound."

ATTENTION, MEN!

Let McNamara make your Spring Suit. I represent E. W. Price & Co. of Chicago, the strongest line of waist-to-measure clothes in the world at popular prices. They specialize on suits made as you want them from $15 to $25. Others must pay $30 to $40 for the same. This is the only house in the United States strong enough financially to control its own pattern, thus assuring you against being overcharged. Aside from the staples, but two patterns make a man's line in a re-salter. Remember, we're clean; others try.

BEST ROADS

Traveled By Indiana Motorists Are in Kentucky

That the Kentucky roads are the best the entrants in the Ford-state tour have struck in the 1,300 miles they have traveled since leaving Indianapolis July 9th, was the declaration of the automobilists on their arrival in Louisville. They have visited four states.

"The roads of Ohio, which is well advanced in the matter of road improvements, cannot be compared with those of Kentucky," said W. D. Egan, official pilot of the tour.

"We traveled over 1,000 miles in the Buckeye state and not a mile was nearly so good as the roads we have traversed in this state."

RUGGLES CAMP GROUND

Daily Happenings at Favorite Resort Where Prayer and Song Resound

RUGGLES CAMPGROUND, July 27th, 1912.

The death of Bishop Warren of the Methodist Church at his home in Colorado is the subject of much sorrow and regret among our brethren, the most of whom knew him well. The Bishop presided over the Kentucky Conference two years ago at Paintsville, that being the third time he had presided over our Conference. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him. He was a giant in the Church and his work for the Methodist Church will be lasting in character. His picture draped in black was hung on the platform this morning by Rev. Dover, who spoke eloquently for several minutes of the life and works of the beloved Bishop.

To the great delight of our music-loving folks the Board of Directors this morning had a Weber grand piano placed on the platform by F. F. Gerbich for use in the singing for the campmeeting instead of the organ which has done service for "in, these many years. We are expecting greatly improved music and many more to sing in the choir.

Rev. H. D. Cooper of Tullahoma conducted the early morning prayer service today; he also preached at 10 a. m. Rev. Cooper's sermon was an unusually good one. His text was "Holiness," and he described it as "the good old-fashioned way." It was one of the best sermons we've heard on this much used subject for many a day.

Mrs. Bentz took charge of the Children's service today and the little folks are all pleased. Mrs. Bentz is much loved by the children and it is certain that she will teach them many things for their good.

Rev. Stanton in giving in the young people's service a study of Paul's letters to the Corinthians. The lesson he drew from this great epistle are very interesting and instructive.

Mrs. J. M. Ackman, Miss Ackman and Mr. Ackman of Ashland, arrived today by auto from Mayeville.

Rev. G. W. Howell of the Mt. Carmel M. Church, South, is a visitor with us today. Miss Rena Mae Coryell of Plumville arrived this afternoon to remain during the campmeeting.

Rev. William Jones, the Sunday-school missionary, arrived today, having just been in attendance at the Lexington District Conference at Middlesboro.

From Mayeville and vicinity the following are new additions to the large number of campers:

Mr. John Brodt, Mr. John Walsh, Misses Etta and Adah Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens.

Mrs. Laura McKellip and Miss Elmer Parker of Mayeville are the guests of Mrs. Henry Robert and son for a few days.

Mrs. Grace Barnwell of Pawnee, Ill., is the guest of Miss Maud Muse during the campmeeting.

M. P. Moody of Rectortville moved into today. She will entertain several of the campmeeting.

PUTS CHECK

On Unrestricted Use of General Delivery—Sweeping Order Issued

WASHINGTON, July 26th.—Approving individual action taken by Postmasters of many large cities, Postmaster General Hitchcock has issued a general order which has the avowed purpose of checking the use of general delivery windows for carrying on flirtations and clandestine correspondence. Any person who wishes mail at general delivery windows instead of home addresses may hereafter be required to give their reasons in writing.

Many complaints have been received by the Postoffice Department that service at general delivery windows was being improperly used by minors, particularly young girls, and by residents ordinarily served by mail carriers.

Under the postal regulations, postmasters may require all persons to furnish in writing their names and addresses and statements of their reasons for preferring to receive their mail at the general delivery. In addition, minors may be required to furnish the names of their parents, in order that they may be notified and have an opportunity to control the delivery of mail to their children.

Postmasters at offices not having city carrier service may notify the parents of minors in all instances where it appears to them that the minors are using the general delivery to obtain mail under objectionable conditions.

Postmaster General Hitchcock directs all postmasters to enforce the regulations strictly and impartially.

In the future every girl who asks for mail at the general delivery window will have to give her name and address.

Minors who apply for mail at the general delivery window will be required to give the name and address of their parents.

GREAT MASS OF PROOF

REPORTS OF 30,000 CASES OF KIDNEY TROUBLE. SOME OF THEM IN MAYSVILLE

Each of some 6,000 newspapers of the United States is publishing from week to week, names of people in its particular neighborhood, who had used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney weakness, bladder troubles and urinary disorders. This mass of proof includes over 30,000 testimonials. Mayeville is no exception. Here is one of the Mayeville cases.

Mrs. John Wallingford, 108 Commerce street, Mayeville, Ky., says: "I am glad to confirm the testimony I gave in 1909, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. Several of my neighbors have been cured of kidney trouble by this remedy, and a member of my family was also cured of a serious case of kidney complaint by its use, after other medicine had failed. Every once in a while I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. J. Wood & Son's Drug Store, and use them. In this way I keep my kidneys in proper working order and ward off any kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlwain Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Thoughts for Republicans in the Presidential Campaign

Old Time Republican Principles Have Made This Country the Best in the World

Every few days we hear of some Republican who, it is said, will not support their ticket this year, and nine times out of ten those men are against the head of the ticket, Taft. Some of this opposition to the President, will of course blow over before November, but some of it will not. It seems there are always some Republicans who are dissatisfied. In 1892 a large number of Republicans wanted a change; they voted the Democratic ticket and they got it.

If enough Republicans vote against Taft there will be a change no doubt. But who will benefit by it? Really, is there any one who desires a return of the times of Cleveland's administration. Farmers should not forget that wheat sold for 60 cents a bushel, corn 35 and 40 cents, and wool 10 to 14 cents a pound.

Do you appreciate the good times we are having now and have had for the last fifteen years under Republican rule? Surely a little sober, serious thought on the part of these Republicans who now contemplate voting for Wilson would put them right. We may get angry at our party at times but we should remember that old time Republican principles have made this country prosperous and best in the world in which to live. Are we willing to discard them now and go over to the Democratic party and free trade? Before deserting your party, fellow Republicans, think it over carefully, and you will conclude to let well enough alone and line up for Taft and the Republican ticket.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Chance to Carry on Fishing Rod Farm

WASHINGTON. — Raising bamboo for the market is a new industry that the department of agriculture has succeeded in launching. The report of the flourishing condition of the bamboo plantation has come from Florida to David Fairchild, chief of the bureau of foreign plant introduction. The establishment of the crop is the result of more than four years' hard work. The department also has found a way of shipping the bamboo so that the young plants will grow, and this has been the hardest part of the problem.

Raising bamboo commercially has been a flourishing industry in Japan for years. It was felt for a long time that it was a business that ought to do well here, because it furnishes a quick growing timber that is susceptible of a number of special uses. There is as much difference between the ornamental bamboo commonly grown here and the thicker bamboo as there is between a dray horse and a polo pony. It has never been accurately determined just what the structural strength of bamboo is, though the strength is immense for the weight. Some tests are to be made of the new government crop at the bureau of standards. The wood is already much used in the manufacture of aeroplanes, and when it is known just what can be expected of it there will be even a greater demand for it.

It is used very largely in Japan for house building, though it is not expected it will be in much demand as a building timber in this country, except in restricted localities. But there are other uses for it. The wood makes the lightest strong furniture known, and, although it has never been very much used for that purpose here, it is thought that the hard, naturally polished bamboo will make headsteds that will have all the advantage of brass, besides being quite as handsome, much cheaper and a great deal lighter.

One of the important uses of the wood that has been found abroad is for cheap, subsurface irrigation pipes.

Sent His Glass Eye to the Laundry

A LITTLE white light on the telephone switchboard in a local hotel the other day gleamed brightly for a moment. Then it began to wink rapidly, as if the person at the other end of the wire was jangling the telephone hook in great perturbation.

"Operator," called the young woman at the board.

"Send me up a bellboy. Quick! Hurry! I've lost something!" exclaimed an agitated voice.

"O-h, what is it, burglars? Shall I send a house detective?"

"No, just a bellboy. Hurry up."

A bellboy was dispatched posthaste and found D. A. Malcolm of Butte, Mont., greatly excited.

"I left a valuable article wrapped in a white handkerchief on my table," he exclaimed, "and it must have been taken away in the laundry. It is very valuable. Find it for me. Here's a dollar. Hurry up!"

The bellboy, with inward mutterings at the carelessness of guests who leave diamond necklaces or gold cuff-links wrapped up in handkerchiefs, hastened to the package room.

"Did you see a little bundle wrapped up in a handkerchief?" he gasped to the head porter.

"Saw a handkerchief all wadded up. It's just gone to the marking room. What's the matter? What was in it?" But the boy had fled.

Following the lad to the marking room, the porter was just in time to hear:

"Yes, I sent it into the sorting room," and to see the bellboy, now thoroughly aroused with the spirit of the chase, disappear into the sorting room.

This time the porter was near enough to hear the boy informed that the little wadded up handkerchief containing the mysterious but "very valuable" something had been taken to the laundry tub by about four jumps.

He hastened thither and, seeing the boy frantically pawing over the soiled linen, watched him until the youth triumphantly pulled forth the object of the search.

"Give us a look," cried the porter.

"What was you so crazy about?" Without replying the breathless bellboy gingerly pulled the handkerchief open and disclosed Mr. Malcolm's perfectly good blue glass eye.

Unique Experiences in Filibustering

A VETERAN Washington correspondent of a metropolitan newspaper was telling some of his experiences in the national capital to a group of friends the other night. During the conversation one of the group happened to mention that the greatest and most spectacular of all scenes in a deliberative body is a filibuster, and this drew forth the following comment from the newspaper man:

"Whenever the organizers of a filibuster force have an all-night session it is a picnic for the denizens of the national capital, who flock to the big temple of legislation in the hope of seeing and hearing sensational episodes.

"In the days when Tom Reed of Maine was speaker filibusters by the Democratic minority were far more frequent than now and were marked with greater bitterness. During one of these seances a gigantic representative from Texas, Buck Kilgore by name, growing hungry and thirsty, too, no doubt, concluded that he would be better off at home and, forgetting the locked doors, started to execute that idea. It chanced that he sat near the only partition that separated the speaker's lobby, and that was a flimsy door of green balsa, and though the faithful minion of the house had locked it, the Texan, with one mighty kick of his right foot, encased in a No. 12 cowhide boot, burst the slight affair as easily as though it had been of paper and out he marched to the steps that led to freedom.

"The incident was duly chronicled and Kilgore awoke to find himself temporarily famous. The sublime nerve he manifested set the whole country to laughing. The thing turned out very happily to the kicker in a way that he had never imagined. From every part of the Union enterprising manufacturers sent him boots of the most expensive kind, accompanied by polite notes begging to be allowed the privilege of naming a brand of footwear after him.

Two Races Compared in Mathematics

THE relative mathematical abilities of boys and girls and of the white race as compared with the black are among the subjects taken up by the United States bureau of education.

"It seems to be the general opinion that the average boy shows more ability in mathematics than the average girl, but also that he does not work so faithfully," said the bureau. "In a mixed class this greater faithfulness of the boy and the greater faithfulness of the girl react most advantageously on each other.

"Another fact that is noted is this: In elementary algebra the girl does as good work as the boy; in geometry not nearly so good. In advanced algebra and trigonometry, the boy shows an ability which is far ahead of the girl. Yet, we are free to confess that his greater natural ability is often outclassed by the steady, patient endeavor of the girl. Perhaps it would be safer to say that the girl does not show as great an ability as the boy, even though she may have it.

courses in mathematics answers to inquiries indicate that boys are much more inclined to elect such courses than girls are."

In investigating the relative mathematical ability of the negro race, an examiner was sent to eleven well-known negro schools and colleges in the south.

"Five of the schools feel that there is no difference due to race. Two are of the opinion that negro students generally are not the equals of white students. One school was not able to make any comparison. Three did not reply to the question regarding a comparison of the races. Replies were made by both white and negro teachers who have had years of experience in negro schools and in some cases in white schools."

MARSE HENRY OUT

Editor Appears in Flannel Attire

But He Isn't Very Cool

Louisville Herald.

Marce Henry Watterson, distinguished fellow-citizen, Editor of a public print and incidental inhabitant of Jeffersontown, came out yesterday afternoon arrayed as one of the lilies of the field, or a musical comedy hero, or a young man who takes tickets at a park pavilion and won't let the youngsters "do" the grizzly bear dance.

He wore a new white flannel suit, a new senior straw hat, new white canvas low shoes and a new baby-blue scarf. It is alleged by Mr. Watterson's friends that he had not indulged himself in a fashion so sprightly as this in twenty five years—though that may be stretching it some.

Was Marce Henry cool and comfortable in his joyous raiment? Not noticeably so. Unconvinced by appearances, a friend inquired, to wit:

"Dammit t'ell! No?"

Then Mr. Watterson in reported to have explained further in his own inimitable way that a man couldn't have been cool in an office yesterday if attired in the very shrewdest of sheer lingerie.

BULL MOOSERS

Third Term Advocates Hold Mass Meeting—Organize and Dele- gates Appointed

The Roosevelt Convention held in the Courthouse Saturday afternoon attracted an assemblage of three hundred or more voters, nearly per cent. of the number being Democratic and regular Republicans.

A. M. January called the meeting to order, read several letters, one from Theodore Roosevelt and one from Lucile Combs, wherein he was empowered as official representative and Chief Bull Moose, in setting in motion the wheels of the party machine in Mason county.

A. D. Cole was elected Chairman and Charles E. Dietrich Secretary.

In accepting the chairmanship Mr. Cole delivered a real entertaining speech, and while very few of his audience, perhaps believed in all he said, his flights of oratory and beautiful rounded sentences were none the less well received and duly appreciated as oratorical gems.

On suggestion of W. W. Gault the matter of appointing Committees was dispensed with and the business of the Convention proceeded with the resolutions condemning both the Republican and Democratic parties were adopted and delegates named to attend the District Convention which meets to Ashland August 1st at 12 o'clock noon.

A County Executive Committee was appointed, which completed the business and the Convention adjourned.

RUGGLES CAMP GROUND

Daily Happenings at Favorite Re- sort Where Prayer and Song Resound

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS, July 27th, 1912.
Today's arrivals: Rev. O. J. Carder of Pointsville, Ky., and Ralph Finch of Abingdon, Ohio, Mr. G. N. Harding and I. M. Lane of Maysville; Mr. W. P. Bowman and family of Vanceburg; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Colburn and daughter, Miss Nellie, of Lockland, O.; Misses Mary B. Simms and Addie Boyd of Maysville;
Mr. Robert Jones and family of Burtonville.

There was great disappointment in the camp this morning when a phone message was received conveying the news that Rev. James Taylor, the South American Missionary, who was to preach tonight and tomorrow, had, after coming as far as Maysville, received a telegram telling him of the serious illness of a member of his family. He left immediately for his home. While much regret was felt on account of the failure of Rev. Taylor to come, the superintendents soon arranged for three of the best of our Kentucky preachers, Revs.
Boston, Overley and Cooper to do the Sunday preaching. This means we will have some high-class sermons for the great crowd expected on the Sabbath.

The meetings are moving along nicely preaching splendid, singing fine, with the quor-ters doing good service, besides a large chorus choir, weather never better and the campus a veritable "thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Rev. A. F. Fells preached this morning and Rev. William Jones this evening. The women's meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. D.
Hendrickson; these women's services are very interesting and helpful. All of today's services were well attended.

The camp is well crowded tonight, many coming in to stay over Sunday, which is expected to be a banner first Sunday.

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS, July 28th, 1912.
With weather of the most delightful sort, the first Sunday has attracted a fine attendance at old Ruggles Campgrounds. All the services were attended by large, attentive congregations. The first real big meeting was the campmeeting love feast at 9 a. m., led by our fellow townsman, Mr. M. A. Wallingford, who for years longer than the writer can remember has always led the service on the first Sunday of campmeeting. And for him to lead means a fine meeting—a rousing meeting.

The service this morning was an exception to the rule. For one hour and a half devout worshippers poured forth their religious experiences. So interesting was the meeting that it was hard to bring it to a close in time for the preaching service.

The disappointment of yesterday on account of the news that the big Sunday preacher, Rev.
Taylor, could not be present, was turned into joy today when the large audience heard one of the very best sermons ever delivered at this campmeeting. Rev. G. W. Buxton was the preacher on the subject, "Faith." He held his audience spellbound for an hour and ten minutes. The congregation was visibly affected by the wonderful message of this brilliant young minister, and expressions of appreciation of the sermon were heard from all who heard him. The folks are saying: "What is the use of sending off for a big preacher for Sunday when we have such gifted men right here with us?"

Rev. Overly of our Third Street Church preached this afternoon to another large and appreciative audience. The service concluded with a regular shouting time. It sounded like campmeeting sure enough.

Mr. Charles I. Morford of Covington, one of The Equippers' staff of linotypers, arrived in camp this morning and will spend the week the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Richardson.

Prof. W. P. King and wife of Ballerona, Miss Allison King and Mrs. King of Lewisburg, are among the visitors in the camp today.

Mrs. Little H. Wainner of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Mary H. McClanahan of Maysville are visitors at the McClanahan cottage today.

Miss Elizabeth Denning of Flemingsburg was here today.

The following young men were out from Maysville today: Henry Wood, Harry and John Walsh, Leonard Wallingford, Harry Otto, Frank Heinrich, Cornelius Schatzman and P. F.
Gierlich.

Mrs. Thomas A. Davis in Serious Condition

The many friends of Mrs. Thomas A. Davis will regret to hear of her very serious condition. Mrs. Davis has long been an invalid, and Saturday she sustained a painful fall at her home in West Second street while being assisted across the veranda. This morning her condition is alarming to Mr. Davis and his family and it is feared that this esteemed woman may not rally from her illness.

That first gray hair!

Oh how disappointed you are to see it.—Gray hairs take away that youthful appearance that you are so anxious to, and should keep,—for beauty and good looks depend so much upon natural colored, thick, glossy and healthy hair.

Every one is attracted to the woman with beautiful hair. Why not have it—get rid of the gray hairs—keep them out altogether by using

HAY'S HAIR HEALTH.
You'll be surprised how quickly it will restore those gray hairs to their natural color and how well it will keep them so.

It is not a dye but the most satisfactory and reliable restorer.

To the Democratic Voters of Mason County:
Whereas, the untimely death of my predecessor in office, Mr. W. P. Dickson, rendered it necessary that the vacancy in the office of the Clerk of the Mason County Court shall be filled at the regular November election, I take this means of announcing to the Democratic voters of Mason county my candidacy for said office, subject to the result of the State Primary election to be held August 30, 1912. Your support is respectfully solicited.
